CAMBIE GARDENS UPDATE – PHASE 1A:

Construction of the homes for 44 residents in two towers (Phase 1A) is progressing. The construction cranes have now been removed from both towers. Interior finishes are being installed within the future homes, including kitchen cabinets, countertops, appliances, and paint on the walls. Global supply chain delays have impacted the construction schedule; construction is now anticipated to be completed in spring 2022. The first GPC residents should move in late spring / early summer 2022.

CAMBIE GARDENS UPDATE – PHASE 1B/Parcel C:

The developer has submitted their rezoning application to the City of Vancouver. This application includes a change to Parcel C residences (excluding the planned homes for George Pearson Residents) changing them from market units to rental units. The application is undergoing a review process with the City. While this rezoning application does not impact the space designated for the residents new homes, the Community Health Centre, or Therapy Pool, it has resulted in a lengthy delay in building design and construction timelines. At this time, we anticipate construction beginning sometime in late 2022 / early 2023.
DOGWOOD LODGE UPDATE:
Construction on the new Dogwood Lodge is progressing well with steel walls installed up to the 4th level. All rooms including resident bedrooms and ensuites are being framed out as the building takes shape. VCH has resumed exploring furniture suppliers. Details to involve residents and families will be shared in the coming months. The new Dogwood Lodge Care Home is on schedule for opening in spring 2023.
